

Notification – Empanelment of Correspondents – 2011

Energy Press, the publication division of SEEM invites applications from journalists, PR professionals and media persons interested/ working in the energy sector to act as volunteer correspondents for its international network. High caliber freshers can also apply.

The correspondents are required to regularly provide updates through e-mail on the latest developments in the energy sector, including events, technology developments, energy markets, industry updates, etc. on a voluntary basis. Periodically, correspondents are also be engaged to interview leading personalities, and are paid for the particular assignment.

PR professionals and media persons are also encouraged to apply as ad sales agents, to work on a commission basis.

E-mail your expression of interest at the earliest to energymanagerhq@gmail.com with the subject line "Empanelment of Correspondents - 2011". Receipt of applications closes on 15 December 2010.